

Council wants details on CAS spending

A prediction that the 1985 budget of the Kawartha-Haliburton Children's Aid Society (CAS) will rise dramatically has prompted the Haliburton County Council to request a review hearing of the proposed budget by the province.

The request came in a resolution passed at the regular meeting of council on Wednesday, May 15, following a report by Bob Penny, the Executive Director of the society. Penny attended the meeting to explain the reasons for the 1984 deficit of the CAS and the predicted increase in this year's budget. Penny was also seeking approval from Council of the County share of last year's shortfall.

In 1984 the county contributed $28,484 to the Kawartha-Haliburton CAS. The county's share of the deficit was an additional $2,936.

A $30,000 allocation to the CAS has already been approved in the 1985 County budget.

Penny told Council that the $220,000 provide-wide deficit was due largely to the increased numbers of children that have come under the care of the CAS. He added that although the society was able to predict fixed costs such as wages and administrative costs the society could not predict the number of children who would need help.

He did predict a dramatic rise in expenditures in 1985 because children under the care of the society "are much more difficult to care for" than in the past.

Penny said that the society prefers to let children stay with their families but "this is impossible in some cases" because their parents or foster parents are unable to cope with these children and therefore, they must be cared for in group homes that require a large staff "to control the more difficult children."

Although overall figures are declining Penny reported that the society was involved with 128 children in Haliburton County in 1984. Of these, ten children were in the care of the CAS.

Penny also reported that of the 56 child care cases that were opened in the county last year, seven cases involved sexual abuse. Such cases he said, are particularly difficult and time consuming to investigate because of their sensitive nature.

Support payments

Penny was asked if the CAS can collect family allowance benefits for the children under their care. He replied that the society does receive family allowance benefits as well as provincial grants for children who are wards of the society but this does not apply to children living at home.

When asked if the society seeks payment for their services from the families of the children they help, Penny replied that this was possible under a court order but noted that many families cannot afford the costs. Another reason for the budget increase, Penny explained, is that the agency will be hiring another secretary to assist with the large amount of paperwork, such as case reports, that is required. "It is not in your interest or ours to have social workers doing secretarial work," he said.

His comment was echoed by Janet Greene, President of the Kawartha-Haliburton CAS, who said that the social workers are spending too much time preparing documents and making phone calls. The agency, she said, requires more clerical staff to "free up the social workers".

When cases of child neglect or abuse are reported to the agency, "We don't have the option of saying 'no', we are busy, we can't help," she said. She added, "We have a tremendous responsibility to the children in our care. We do not have the manpower to do the work that we must do in the proper manner."

During his report the Executive Director mentioned that under the recently introduced Young Offenders Act, children under 12 years of age cannot be charged with an offence and therefore cannot be

Trails could host world cup

The competitive World Cup Course that is being constructed by the Nordic Trail Association could become the site of the biggest sporting event ever held in the Highlands according to Curtis Eastmure an executive member of the association.

Eastmure made the comment during a presentation to members of Haliburton County Council on Wednesday.

He told council that a delegation from the association will be attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Ski Association Board of Directors in June to seek permission to hold competitions on the 25 km competitive trail located near Jim Beef Lake.

The association hopes to stage the Canadian National Championship or the North American Championship in 1987 and the World Cup in the winter of 1989.

Eastmure said that the Canadian Ski Association is very aware of the linked trail system that has been developed in Haliburton County and has already approached the local association to hold competitive events.

Eastmure noted however that the competitive course was not completed at the time the offer was made, but that the course, along with the rest of the linked trail system will be completed this year. "We are just putting the finishing touches on the trails," he said, adding that by next winter the trails will be ready for grooming and track setting.

He added that by the end of August the association will have spent $260,000 on the linked trail system.

Funding was provided by the provincial government through a $150,000 Lottario grant, Carling O'Keefe Breweries and the five municipalities that the trails traverse.

Eastmure said that the association is optimistic about the possibility of holding a world cup competition because the topography of the area is quite similar to the sites of the two previous world cup events that were held in Canada in Whitehorse and Quebec City.

His comments were supported by Mike Exall, a consultant to the Nordic Trail Association, who has been supervising the construction of the linked trail system since last fall. During a slide presentation to council, Exall pointed out that the competitive course offers ideal conditions for the world cup event.

He noted "Although Whitehorse is not the most accessible place, the world cup event attracted 2000

Council objects to education levy

Haliburton County Council is asking the Haliburton County Board of Education to reconsider the Board's 1985 budget that included a 19.4% increase in the education levy to County taxpayers.

The request was made in a resolution passed at the May 15 meeting of council.

A committee of the council had intended to meet with representatives of the Board prior to the regular meeting of council to discuss the increase in the education levy but arrangements could not be made in time.

It is expected that the meeting will take place this week. The resolution describes the increase in the education levy as "unacceptable, unreasonable, and an undue burden on the taxpayers of Haliburton County."

Council also requested reconsideration of the $100,000 allocation to the Board's reserve fund and questioned, "What relief has been sought from the Ministry of Education."

The resolution was passed without discussion.

Trails could earn us world attention people for the four day event." He predicted that a national event staged in Haliburton County could attract as many people over a two to seven day period.

He noted as well that the event will generate a great deal of media attention and that this publicity will attract tourists to the region. "We can attract people from the south who might normally go to Vermont or Quebec," he said.

Following the slide presentation, Curtis Eastmure commented that the world cup event will be expensive to stage and that the association does not expect to make a profit on the competition but he argued, that there will be long term benefits, because many people from outside the region, will want to ski in this area.

Eastmure asked County Warden Dalton MacDonald for a letter of support to be presented at the Canadian Ski Association annual meeting. The warden agreed to lend his support on behalf of the county and also asked whether other townships in the county could become part of the linked trail system.

Eastmure responded by noting that "Up to now we have linked the existing trails," adding, "We would like to see the entire county covered."

The only criticism of the program being carried out by the association came at the end of the presentation when Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick, described the project as "A damn waste of money." He said he believed that the workers who are cutting the trails are "Very poorly supervised" and cited examples of workers taking extra coffee breaks.

Eastmure replied that while there were some problems, they were minor and that over all, the project has been very successful.

Society's budget

placed in an institution. This results in these children being placed in group homes with a higher than average number of counsellors needed to supervise the children.

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey criticised some of the effects the Young Offenders Act has had on our "permissive society". "We have a social network that we cannot afford," he said, adding that the county share of last year's CAS deficit was insignificant but the "principle is important." "We are asked to stay within guidelines by the province (when setting the budget) but then we have to pay more," he said.

Fearrey suggested the counties which provide funds to the Kawartha Haliburton CAS, "Should get together and approach the Ministry" to discuss the 1985 budget.

Later in the meeting, Cardiff Deputy Reeve Ross Duncan, the county council representative to the CAS, told council members that he was not satisfied with the operation of the agency and questioned why the 1985 budget had not been submitted to the Ministry of Community and Social Services "Even though it has been ready for several months."

He added that he could not understand why the 1984 deficit was "Only being brought to our attention now." Duncan recommended that council request a review hearing by the province on the 1985 budget.

Glamorgan deputy reeve, Jane Franklin, who served on the CAS board last year, suggested that Duncan should spend some time at the CAS office in order to further understand the operation of the agency. Franklin supported Fearrey's suggestion that the representatives of Haliburton County Council meet with representatives of the CAS, the Ministry of Community and Social Services and members of other councils that support the Kawartha-Haliburton CAS.

Council agreed to the recommendation which was included in a resolution that approved the county share of the 1984 deficit.

An eclectic visual delight

There is a painting hanging on the wall at the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery among many others.

From across the room, it resembles an abstract stained glass window, but on approaching the painting, the viewer's gaze is drawn to a tiny horned owl perched high in the branch of a leafless tree. The soaring vertical lines of the tree trunks create a sense of optimism, while the strong horizontal aspect of the forest floor produces a calming influence. This calm optimism is a reflection of the artist, Lynne Joan Frederick, whose works exhibit an imaginative versatility.

Continually experimenting, Mrs. Fredericks creates abstract, impressionistic and realistic works in various media including watercolours, oils, acrylics, pastels, pen and ink and charcoal.

The artist began her career while a young student in England. During the war, she developed her technical skills converting engineering drawings to three dimensional representations of radar equipment.

Much of the work she accomplished was of a highly secret nature, since radar at the time was in its infancy and unknown in Germany, a fact which may have resulted in the bombing attacks on the plant she worked in.

At the conclusion of the war, Mrs. Frederick married a Canadian Engineer who was studying at Cambridge University and emigrated to Canada. She continued to develop her talents while raising her two children at her home in Port Hope, experimenting with watercolours, pastels and oils.

After moving to the Oakville area, Mrs. Fredericks joined Northern Telecom and became recognized as a talented technical illustrator.

While still with the company, the artist expanded her duties to include interior design and large scale murals.

She continued to experiment in her own time with acrylics, producing lively abstract paintings.

At the opening of her show on Saturday Mrs. Frederick explained that although many of her admirers have encouraged her to "Stick to one recognizable style" she finds it difficult. "I don't have the patience to stay with one medium or one style. I find that I get bored and I am afraid that if I get bored, it will show in my work."

Looking to the future

The development of a cross-country ski trail system in Haliburton County could prove to be one of the major boosts this area needs to broaden its winter appeal. Certainly the efforts of the Haliburton County Nordic Trail Association, under the direction of expert Mike Exall, has helped to lead the way.

The group's report to county council last week provided an encouraging and optimistic forecast of the potential for the sport in this area. In addition to the network of trails which will eventually link various sections of the county, the group hopes to attract world attention by staging a series of events with competitors from across Canada and around the world.

Hosting the Canadian, North American and World cross-country ski championships are grand plans. For many they may seem to be so much "pie in the sky" but for those who have struggled and worked hard to bring the association to this point, these are dreams they would like to see becoming reality.

We wish them luck in their efforts, not that they'll need it. Their own enthusiastic efforts will help them forge ahead. But luck and fortitude will be needed to show those who prefer to tear down rather than build up, that there is value in having a dream. Striving for something today seems an impossibility - however it is not useless toil but a sure way to self and community enrichment.

What has happened to democracy? Is this the new kingdom of Anson, Hindon and Minden with King Pergolas as the Monarch?

This refers to the council's decision at their May 9th meeting to disregard the wishes of its ratepayers and go ahead with plans to deal directly with Central Mortgage and Housing in the implementation of the Rural and Native Housing program.

At the May 2nd meeting of council, a discussion was held concerning a petition signed by 107 local residents all of whom opposed the program. Council members could not believe that those signing the document had read it and/or understood it. Councillor Kenney suggested a committee at that time, and although no resolution was passed, the rest of the council appeared to agree. This committee would examine all aspects of the Rural and Native Housing program to help everyone understand why it is in the best interests of the municipality to have the program. We hoped someone could explain how a program that will spend up to $81,000 on a house and only recover 25% of this amount is feasible or beneficial to anyone other than the new home-owner.

Now council wants to ignore all concerned parties and proceed blindly ahead with their personal desires. What happened to being elected by the people for the people?

Since Councillor Kenney is the only member who has even considered the issue from two sides, it shows him to be the only member qualified to continue acting as our representative.

The fight is far from over and the blindness on behalf of council will only serve to increase the opposition in this area.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Suddenly, as the forest canopy opens, the air is punctuated by a new song - a pretty little poem, as one naturalist describes it, sung in the softest of tones, full of delicacy and charm. It emanates from mysterious, almost gawdy, travellers - shiny black-and-white above stark white below, and "bibbed" with the most vivid of heads.

Rose-breasted grosbeaks - among our most beautiful birds in both song and colour - have distinct male and female plumages. The gawdy automaton that grabs both eye and ear is the male. The female - which shares the same sort and heavy seed-cracking bill - is a muted collection of olive-brown and white striping, and very quiet.

They're coming through in numbers now, on the final leg of a 5,000 km migration. For, theirs is a life cycle filled with mystery, romance and distant lands. They have spent the winter - from late October through mid-March wintering in Central America. From Guatemala to Panama, they dotted the mighty jungles and highlands, somehow surviving the ravages of war and capture, awaiting spring's cue. Over the next 2 - 3 weeks, they'll spread out to dot the deciduous and mixed forests of southern and central Ontario.

Intriguingly, they're birds that do best in disturbed areas - once-logged sites, old forest fire areas and even long-abandoned pastures - all in 10 - 30 years old regrowth. A complex checkerboard of shrubs, openings, and fully-cloaked trees, with branches and tangles right to the ground, these sites produce the ideal mix of food and nesting sites.

By the start of June, the males will be staking territory. Brazenly declaring "mine", these characters fly from tree to tree, posing in the sun to sing as loudly as they can.

Males react instantly to others' songs, racing to the origin and challenging would-be intruders. Indeed, "challenge" is hardly an adequate word to describe the aggressive performance. They fluff and flash, and shriek their song. And, if that doesn't work, they'll head straight into fierce combat, crashing and pecking, shrieking and yanking feathers, in a scuffle of awesome proportions.

Females appear to choose their mate, selecting the biggest and loudest male with the best "turf". Sound familiar? Then commences one of the most delicate courting rituals among our birds. His strident territorial declaration yields instantly to a beautiful entreatment. Spreading and drooping his

Uncle Doug and No. 48

Most school bus drivers develop a special attachment to the children they carry to and from school each day. It is not uncommon to hear of drivers who have a special treat for their passengers come Christmas, on birthdays or at the end of the school year.

The special relationship was evident recently when several passengers of "old 48" paid tribute to their now retired driver and the sturdy 1972 Dodge bright orange school bus in rhyming verse. Jamie and Corbie Kent, along with Misty Bennett each penned tributes to their bus and driver, Doug Neville.

Mr. Neville, known to his young charges as "Uncle Doug", has since retired from the Bobcaygeon Road north run, but he is fondly remembered by what he describes as "a particularly good bunch of kids". Doug, who obviously enjoyed his twice daily task, commented, "These old buses have a character all their own. I always tried to have the children respect the bus, to take care of it."

His attitude has been shared by the children, as the comments contained in the poems relate. The first poem, by Jamie and Corbie Kent, traces the route followed by the bus from its first pick-up on the Brady Lake Road to the school. Misty Bennett's poem pays tribute to 'Old 48' and Uncle Doug. (Calligraphy by Maxine Kent).

Old forty-eight is really, really great!
She picks us up each morning,
And is very rarely late.
But all the credit cannot go to forty-eight alone,
Cause Uncle Doug's our driver,
And it's him that sees us home.

Now these two work together, and they do it very well,
For if forty-eight is ailing,
Then it's Uncle Doug he'll tell.
They share everything they do - the tears, the joy, the sweat.
And all the kids along our route,
"Thank God" the day they met.

To start each day, they pick up Matt, who lives at Brady Lake.
Then on to the Queen's Line;
And that big old hill to make.
They stop for Rob and Andy, for Carrie and Rebecca too,
And once back on the 'Caygeon Road
It's nearly all straight through.

The next stop sees four girls, one boy, all standing by the road,
Says Uncle Doug to forty-eight,
"We're going to have a load."
There's Corbie, Jaime, Tammy too.
There's Angie and Michelle.
Then Karen, Kent and Jerry,
Now they get on as well.

Geoff and Jenn are waiting just around the turn.
The time is now eight-thirty,
So Doug makes her fires burn.
Now at the Scotch Line East, we turn.
There's three stops on this road.
The Trumbull boys, the Little girls
And Sheldon, round off our load.

Then four Garbutts climb aboard, now that makes twenty-four.
The Wesley girls will get on next,
When Doug opens forty-eight's door.
Across the flat and under the lines, and again Doug slows her down.
Elishya, Earl and Misty wait,
For their ride into town.

Doug Neville and his poetic admirers, Jaime and Corbie Kent and Misty Bennett stand before Old Number 48.

Darren, Joanne, Dave and Michelle, are last to take a seat.
The waiting has been really cold,
They're glad to feel the heat.
Past the rink and Gospel church, on MacKay Drive we will turn.
Another right - we're almost there,
The place we go to learn.

"Good-bye Doug and forty-eight. See you again tonight."
It's Friday and it's party time
You'll be a welcome sight.
The day is long, we cannot wait for hometime to arrive,
But finally the bell - it rings
Around three forty-five.

And there sits Doug and forty-eight, a driver and his bus.
We sure missed seeing them all day.
I wonder, "Did they miss us?"
Getting to school and back again. That pair could never fail.
Faithful partners all the way,
Come rain or snow or hail.

Uncle Doug, he tells us stories, all about our past.
Brings good things for us to eat
Makes time fly by so fast.
Now forty-eight's engine is purring, and Uncle Doug smiles, "Good-bye."
So long Doug and forty-eight —
What a bus, and what a guy!!!

Jaime and Corbie

Old forty eight is a school bus,
Old forty eight is a great bus!
You are big enough for all of us,
So no one needs to fuss!

You are bright and yellow,
And driven by a kindly fellow,
Uncle Doug's his name,
And his claim to fame,
Is for a treat,
At the end of the week!

In winter you are nice and warm,
On a cold and frosty morn.
You are a welcome sight,
With your bright red light,
And it sure is a treat
To sit in your comfy seat!

Loans reduced

- by Bill Scott, MP -

Agriculture Minister, John Wise, announced that the Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) reduced its interest rates effective May 6. The reduction reflects the lower cost of funds to FCC.

Loans under the Corporation's Shared Risk Mortgage program are now available at an interest rate of 12 percent, down from 12 1/2 percent, the rate which had been in effect since April 9. The interest rate on a shared risk mortgage is adjusted annually with downward and upward changes shared equally between the borrower and FCC. There is a ceiling of 2 1/2 percent on increases over the six year term.

The Corporation also offers mortgages with a five year fixed interest rate of 12 1/2 per cent, a decrease from the previous rate of 13 percent. The rate for ten year fixed terms is 13 1/4 per cent, a reduction from 13 1/2 percent. Twenty year fixed term mortgages carry an interest rate of 13 1/2 per cent down from 13 3/4 percent.

Farm syndicate loans for the joint purchase of machinery or buildings by a group of three or more farmers are available at an interest rate of 12 1/2 per cent, reduced from the previous rate of 13 percent.

I am pleased to see that new loans for farmers are on a decreasing trend. This is very helpful for all sectors of our economy.

Hyland Crest study expansion on hold

Haliburton County Council has rejected a recommendation that a study be conducted on chronic care and/or the extension or renovation of the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home.

The recommendation was contained in a resolution tabled at the May 15 meeting of Council by the Hyland Crest Management Committee. Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey informed Council that "the whole concept of chronic care has been assessed," adding that a study that was carried out in Haliburton County recommended that facilities for 18 chronic care patients should be established. He recommended that these "chronic care beds" be placed in the hospitals in Minden and Haliburton rather than in the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home. At present Fearrey said

"We are not getting paid enough (by the province) for chronic care at Hyland Crest."

He added that although 75% of the residents at the Hyland Crest require chronic care the Home is "not being paid as such" but instead is receiving compensation at rates for regular care.

Fearrey described the idea (more on page 11)

Another award for Kirchesse

The herd of Jerseys on the Kirchesse Farm near West Guilford continues to disprove the notion that Haliburton County is unfit for agriculture. Bud and Paula Kirchner, owners of the farm, have been the recipients of numerous production awards.

In 1984, the Jerseys set several national production records and were named the Top Herd in Canada by the National Jersey Association.

Earlier this year, Lueese, a registered Jersey, set a new Canadian production record for Jerseys in the ten year and older class.

Last week, the Kirchners received two awards from the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, the agency which maintains production figures for dairy herds throughout Canada.

In a competition against all breeds and sizes of dairy herds in Haliburton and Victoria counties, Kirchesse Farm received awards for the largest increase in production and the highest overall production.

According to Bud Kirchner, "This is the first time that a Jersey herd has won in this area and probably the first time in the province."

What makes this and other awards particularly satisfying to the Kirchners is that they have been able to prove that small scale farming which emphasises quality rather than quantity of production, can be successful in the Haliburton Highlands.

quivering wings, 'till they brush the ground, he sings. Then, crouching with breast virtually touching the earth, head curved back till it touches his back, he spreads his raised tail. Waving head and weaving body in an erratic dance, he raises and lowers the wings, in an elaborate alternate flashing of black, white and rose. Acceptance indicated, the two brush beaks and complete the gentle ritual.

"Honeymoon" over, they set immediately to work nestbuilding. A low spot is quickly chosen, usually 1-3 m. above the ground, in a dense tangle of shrubbery or tree branches. Together they work, gathering the materials into a rather flimsy and crude looking - but purely functional - nest. Criss-crossed twigs, 'lined' with a few fine rootlets or animal hairs make up a platform so thin that you can see through it.

By mid June, 3-5 bluish green eggs, ornamented with rich chestnut and umber are laid. By early July the chicks will hatch - tiny cloaks of natal down. The parents alternate between split duties - 1 shading and tending the young, while the other gathers food. But, as the young develop, becoming steadily more voracious.

Soon, both gather load after load of ripening berries, interspersed with forays to gather mouthfuls of protein-rich caterpillars. Delicious!

By 12 days they're feathered and off the nest. Three more and they'll start to fly. By late July, they'll be parent sized, and learning - by intense parental teaching - the art of tough-seed cracking. Soon, they'll be on their own.

Have a close look at the "RBG". Not only a beauty, it also embodies personality and mystery.

New roadside sign policy considered

Signs that are adjacent to county roads will soon come under the jurisdiction of the County Roads Department.

A bylaw to regulate and enforce the policy regarding the location of roadside signs was given a first reading during the regular meeting of County Council on May 15.

According to the proposed bylaw, any sign that is located on a county road allowance or within 100 metres of the road allowance will be required to meet the standards set forth in the policy.

Signs that are within 400 metres of an intersection of a county road and a provincial highway must meet the requirements of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

The bylaw does not apply to signs adjacent to municipal roads.

With certain exceptions, anyone intending to erect a temporary or permanent sign within 100 metres of a county road must submit a sketch to the county engineer, outlining the dimensions of the sign and the wording together with the colours to be used. Unless approval has been granted and a permit issued the erection of a sign will be prohibited.

Permits will not be required for personal identification signs on private property that are less than 0.25 sq. metres, real estate signs less than 1.5 sq. metres that are located on property that is listed for sale, rent or lease, or signs such as "No Hunting" or "No Trespassing" that are located on private property facing the travelled portion of the road and are less than 0.25 sq. metres.

The regulations outlined in the policy govern the size, location, type and condition of signs that are erected or are already in place within 100 metres of the county road allowance including the regulation that no sign shall be erected within 15 metres of the centreline of the road.

Signs that contravene the bylaw may be removed by the County Roads Department or the owner may be advised to remove the sign within 14 days of a written notice. This includes signs which in the opinion of the road authority are not kept in proper condition.

Signs which are already in place and contravene the bylaw must be removed within 90 days of the passing of the bylaw.

Anyone contravening the bylaw will be liable to a fine of not less than $25.00 per day and not more than $1,000 per day in addition to the value of any property destroyed.

The bylaw is expected to receive a final reading at the next regular meeting of County Council in July.

Despite the chilly conditions Sunday, an enthusiastic crowd was on hand to take part in and enjoy the annual Haliburton Spring Fling. This couple were undeterred by the cool breezes from the lake as they watched the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Stage Band perform in the bandshell.

Second victory for Dixie Lee

The Dixie Lee soccer team won their second game in as many starts, defeating the Bracebridge Juniors 3-2 in Bracebridge on Sunday.

This was the first time that the Haliburton team has won the first two games of the season since the team entered the Muskoka Soccer Association League three years ago.

Ivor Thompson opened the scoring for Haliburton early in the first half.

By the end of the first half, the Juniors found themselves behind 2-0 after scoring against themselves. The self-inflicted goal occurred while Mike Hatkoski was pressuring the Bracebridge defence deep in their own zone. A defender attempted to clear the ball, but it bounced off another Junior player into the net to give Haliburton a two goal lead at half time.

Bracebridge narrowed the gap early in the second half when they were able to get a shot past Dixie Lee goalie Andy Shapiera. But Haliburton rebounded and went ahead 3-1 when Mike Hatkoski scored through a tangle of players after gaining control of a corner kick. The Juniors dominated the second half of the game, forcing the play in the Dixie Lee end and were able to score their second goal but even though the Dixie Lee players were tired, they managed to prevent any further scoring and went on to win the game 3-2.

This Thursday the Dixie Lee team will be practicing at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School soccer pitch in preparation for their first home game of the season.

Dixie Lee will be hosting the Bracebridge Centennials in Haliburton at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

Skaters finish with flourish

Catching up on a few late results from the Minden Figure Skating Club:

- During the Spring Test Day, held March 27 in Bobcaygeon, Hunter Obee successfully completed his Swing Dance which completes his requirements for the preliminary dance.

- At the same test day, Kelly Dollo earned her preliminary free skate.

A number of area skaters have attended spring skating schools with noteworthy results.

- Lisa Carr attended the Orillia school and earned her third figure. This achievement makes Lisa the top skater in the Minden club.

- Sara Lee Henderson attended a school in Uxbridge where she successfully earned her European Dance. This completes her senior bronze dance requirements.

- Tammy Pritchard passed her second figure at the Lindsay Spring Skating School. She also passed her European Dance test, completing her senior bronze dance requirements.

Walk supports water projects

The H.A.V.E. (Help A Village Effort) Committee supports self-help, developmental projects in Third World villages. One of the projects which H.A.V.E. has approved is the purchase of PCV pipes for a water pipe-line in the foothills of the Indian Himalayas. Water from a mountain spring is being piped to several dairy families in the Chamasari area.

The Mussoorie Gramin Vikas Samiti (MGVS) - a Christian Retreat and Study Centre in Mussoorie, U.P., India - is administering and supervising this pipe-line project. The following are quotations from a recent letter from MGVS:

"...I am enclosing a statement in Hindi (with a brief English translation), signed by family representatives who attended a meeting inaugurating this project, on April 19th, 1985. A great deal of enthusiasm was expressed, and genuine appreciation to H.A.V.E., for their willingness to underwrite the cost of materials ... Work has begun. Volunteer student groups are coming to work on the project, batches of 10 - 14, for periods of one week at a time. Averaging 75 meters a day, we should be able to complete the main-line trenching by the end of May. The three branch lines involved will be completed in June. Masonry work on the spring catchment area starts today, (April 25th). Village volunteers will be working on the especially steep sections of hillside, which would be difficult for the student groups to handle. In other words, we are moving along and moving fast. We will get you pictures and additional information as soon as possible."

H.A.V.E.'s share in the cost of this project is $4500. The PCV pipe, which is much cheaper than steel pipe, is being used in the gravity-flow system by UNICEF in Nepal, and it is now being introduced into the mountains of northern India.

Although H.A.V.E. has no specific denominational affiliation, and is open to members of the community-at-large, it most sincerely appreciates the support of the very Rev. Clarke MacDonald, past Moderator of the United Church of Canada, as acknowledged in this recent statement to the H.A.V.E. Committee:

"Having visited a number of communities in the Third World, I cannot but applaud the efforts of 'H.A.V.E.' - Help A Village Effort. This project is providing both minimum and long term assistance to people in situations of dire poverty to help themselves. It is a fulfilment of the exhortation, 'give a person a fish and you feed that person for a day. Teach a person to fish and you feed him/her for a lifetime.' It is also a fulfilment of the gospel demand to feed the hungry which needs to be at the top of our priorities today."

EXTENDED ROMAN CATHOLIC SEPARATE SCHOOL FUNDING

VOTERS SENT A MESSAGE THROUGH THE BALLOT BOX: LET'S MAKE SURE IT WAS HEARD AT QUEEN'S PARK

On May 2nd, voters used the ballot box to send a message to all three parties at Queen's Park.

- The democratic process was bypassed when extended funding was announced almost one year ago for Roman Catholic Separate Secondary Schools.
- We must determine whether the proposed extension is legal and constitutional before the government proceeds with costly implementation.

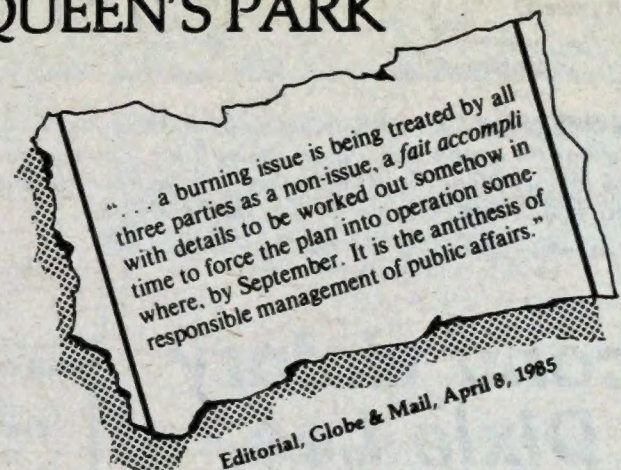

No party has a mandate to proceed with implementing extended school funding for Roman Catholic Separate Secondary Schools. That was the message that was sent through the ballot box on May 2nd, 1985.

If you agree, fill out and return this coupon to:

Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, 60 Mobile Drive, Toronto, Ontario M4A 2P3

This public service message was placed by the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation

"... a burning issue is being treated by all three parties as a non-issue, a fait accompli with details to be worked out somehow in time to force the plan into operation somewhere, by September. It is the antithesis of responsible management of public affairs."

Editorial, Globe & Mail, April 8, 1985

DEAR MR. PREMIER:

I agree there must be a reconsideration of the decision to extend funding for Roman Catholic separate secondary schools.

Museum notes

The County Town Museum committee met Monday night to make plans for the summer season.

This is International Youth Year, so it was decided the display for July would be an exhibition of a rural school with original desks, books, maps etc. Also showing a collection of children's toys and storybooks. If you have any historic articles you would like to loan for this exhibition, please phone John Hulbig, chairman.

Art and Minnie (Rogers) Austen have generously donated to the museum, the millstones from the mill on Beaver Creek which was owned and operated by Minnie's father and grandfather. We thank them for their gift.

The Bake and Rummage sale held last week was a great success, over $400 was realized from this sale. The money will be used for extension work on the museum and a future pioneer village. The committee wishes to thank all those who donated articles and those who helped in so many ways with the sale.

Hyland Crest

of adding an extension to the building as "dangerous" arguing that it would prove too costly to taxpayers in the county.

Fearrey suggested that if the home requires an extension, the Ministry of Community and Social Services should "look into it".

Council agreed with Fearrey's position and recommended that the Management committee of the Home discuss the issue with the Ministry.

Water level report

Stored water in the lakes of the Haliburton area held at 99.3% on Monday, May 13, virtually unchanged from the week preceding. After May 13, with only a small amount of rain, the flow coming from the lower portion of the Gull Watershed had to be reduced by about 2/3 to only 16 cubic metres per second by May 17. This is just about the minimum required in this section.

The Kawartha Lakes levels are adequate with a small surplus, for navigation which began May 17. The flows in the river sections of the Waterway are well below any hazard to boaters in both the Severn and Trent Watersheds.

Repetition proves too much for Stanhope councillor

The afternoon session of Haliburton County Council proved to be too much for one of the representatives seated around the horseshoe.

Aside from the first reading of a county sign bylaw and the declaration by the Warden that June will be Senior Citizen's month, the entire afternoon session was taken up with the reading and passage of bylaws related to road closures.

Members of council listened patiently while the clerk read the details of nine separate road closing bylaws then, after a brief explanation of each proposal, members dutifully raised their hands to signify their approval.

After the process was completed, Elgin Stouffer, Deputy Reeve of Stanhope, rose and, addressing his fellow council members, described the exercise as "Unimportant" and "A waste of time."

He suggested that the county should charge $100 to hear each closing bylaw.

When a fellow councillor commented that he could see no reason to have to deal with such bylaws, Don Shortreed, Deputy Reeve of Sherbourne et al, pointed out that council was required by law to approve the road closures.

He suggested that council could convene earlier in the day, at 9 a.m., to consider the bylaws, before going on to other business.

Harry Clark, Deputy Reeve of Monmouth Township reacted to the suggestion by noting that he "Would have to get up at 4 a.m. to feed a barn full of cows" in order to reach Minden in time for the 9 a.m. start of the meeting.

Clark pointed out that like many other members, he has to travel a considerable distance to attend county council meetings.

Council saw some merit in the suggestion that council charge a fee to hear the road closing bylaws and recommended that the Management Committee consider the proposal.

The Highlands Scottish Dancers get into the swing of the Haliburton Spring Fling as they perform Sunday afternoon at the bandshell. The group was one of many attractions during the Victoria Day weekend.

Lawn bowling season opens

The general meeting of the Minden Lawn Bowling Club was very well attended. The executive committee headed by President Alberta Maitland, informed the eager bowlers of the upcoming season's proposed activities which not only included the regular daily and evening bowling, but also a golf tournament to be run by Russ King during the forced shut down for the Haliburton County Fair.

It might also be noted that the club has instigated a Honour Roll of members and the first recipients are Cy and Gala Heal for their many and heartfelt efforts on behalf of the Club.

Don Sinclair, on behalf of the members, received a Museum Piece, a lawn bowling 'bowl' made out of wood dating back to the 1700 era, a true trophy for the club house, which was presented by Cy Heal.

At the conclusion of all club business, a fine social evening consisting of 'nectar of the grape', cheese and all the other goodies was enjoyed by the entire group.

It could also be said that the next effort might well be

All in all it was a very fine evening and the executives are to be commended for their effort. Now let the bowls fall where they may,

Second Senior Games planned

by Donna Bailey

The Haliburton County Home Support Services Drop-In Centre is pleased to announce that the second annual Ontario Senior Games for Haliburton

County will take place from June 3 to 20 in various parts of the county. We hope that if you are 55 or older you will come out to join in the various games planned. They include: bridge, euchre, cribbage, shuffleboard, horseshoes, 5 pin bowling, lawn bowling, swimming, golf and darts.

To start off the games, the Drop-In Centre will be playing host to a Dixie Lee chicken luncheon at a cost of $4 per person at 12 noon on June 3. Reservations are required. Please phone our office at 457-2941 by May 30.

We are putting in a booth at the Kinsmen Home show to be held at the Haliburton arena the weekend of June 14. We need volunteers to man the booth the afternoon of June 14 and on June 15 in two hour time slots. If you can spare the time to help us we would appreciate it very much.

Please phone our office at 457-2941 or drop in - we are located in the Drag River Municipal Building located opposite Emmerson Lumber - and let us know when you can help. Thank you.

Did you know?...that our office has OHIP forms, including the application for non-group enrolment, premium assistance along with brochures on the traveller's guide to the Ontario Health Insurance Plan and a general guide book?

All of these contain a brief outline of benefits available. OHIP offices (addresses) and the forms needed to apply for coverage.

Ontario health insurance is the only basic health care insurance available to Ontario residents and is designed to help pay for insured services when you are sick or injured. Without this insurance coverage, you could run the risk of having to pay an enormous amount for medical expenses should you require medical care.

A reduced income or financial difficulties need not prevent you from having Ontario Health Insurance. There are several ways you can obtain assistance in paying the premiums. To receive further information, why not drop in or give us a call at 457-2733. We would like to hear from you and help with any inquiries that you may have regarding social, health, governmental and environmental subjects. Our office is located in the Drag River Municipal Building and we are open weekdays, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

SPECIAL OCCASION PERMIT

The mystery of paddle boat racing is still unresolved following a demonstration by youngsters at the Haliburton Spring Fling Sunday. These eager participants were all supposed to be going in the same direction when The Times photographer captured this mid-race scene.

Bull sale - Ag report -

A private treaty bull sale will be held at the Woodville Bull Test Station on Saturday, June 1, starting at 10:00 a.m.

During the winter, 59 bulls representing all major beef breeds have been on test at the Woodville Station. These animals will be completing test the last week in May and the 15 top bulls will be selected for sale. The basis of selection will include their index, based on their rate of gain, their scrotal measurement which indicates fertility, and their structural soundness for use as a herd sire.

The Woodville Bull Test Station is located on the farm of Rick Rickard (Spring Grange Farm), west of Woodville. The telephone number of the station is 439-2567.

A private treaty sale differs from a regular auction sale in that potential buyers deal directly with the owners of the animals for sale and a sale is considered finalized when the two parties agree on the price.

A catalogue of the bulls being offered for sale with all their pertinent information will be available through the Lindsay Agricultural Office during the week before the sale. Copies of the catalogue can be picked up at the office, or phone (705) 324-6125, or Zenith 97920.

Spring use of "roundup"

This spring there have been a number of calls concerning the use of Roundup for control of quackgrass and other weeds, prior to planting.

Roundup is an excellent product for control of a great variety of weeds, but one must remember that it only kills those plants that are actively growing. Roundup has no residual effect on the soil, thus any seeds that have not germinated, and emerged, or roots that have not emerged will not be controlled.

Roundup will give good control of most weeds (and crops) that are actively growing at the time of application. If the field was fall plowed or spring plowed before application of Roundup, you may have many weed escapes.

With spring application of Roundup, many weed seeds and roots will not yet have emerged from the soil, resulting in less than satisfactory control.

The best time for application of Roundup is early fall; late spring application will give control if the target weeds are at the proper stage of growth as recommended on the label. Always be sure to read the label.

Minden Township

Surveyed in 1858. Minden Township is called after one of the oldest towns in Germany, Minden in Westphalia, Prussia, noted for its stone bridge, 640 feet long, over the Weser, which was built in 1518; for its strong fortress; for its sugar, vinegar, beer and brandy factories, and particularly for the great battle fought at Todtenhausen, three miles from Minden, in the same year that Quebec was taken from the French.

During the World War, one of the Canadian soldiers from Minden, Ontario, a son of the late Wm. Heard, formerly of Allsaw, was interned at Minden, Germany, and later boasted of his good treatment there.

Minden Village is built on the boundary between Minden and Anson townships and the Anson side of the Village has been practically wiped out by fire on two occasions, March 17, 1879, and July 28, 1890.

The Bobcaygeon Road, which is on the boundary between Minden and Anson, crosses the Gull River at this point, and the first post-office was named "Gull River". Some few years afterward, the name was changed to Minden.

Eight miles north of Minden Village, at the Junction of the Peterson and Bobcaygeon Roads, an hotel, two stores and a few dwellings constituted about half as much village as was then at Gull River; but travel on the Peterson Road west was soon abandoned and the village at the Junction was short lived.

In those days wheat could be grown in this locality and, in 1864, Hugh Workman built a saw-mill and flour-mill, one and a half miles up the river from Minden. The late Thomas Stinson, father of T. H. Stinson, Esq., M.P., of Lindsay, took charge of these mills, and in a few years the stone grinding equipment of the flour mill had to be removed and a more modern roller process installed, by which a better grade of flour was turned out, where home grown and imported western wheat was converted into a grade of flour in demand at the stores of nearby villages. The milling and lumbering business had become an accepted benefit to the entire community, and continued so for many years.

In 1865, Mr. Richard Smith built a water-power sawmill, just north of Austin's Narrows, now Ingoldsby.

In Minden Township are the following post-offices, viz., Minden, Ingoldsby, Allsaw, Blairhampton, Elsie and Carnarvon, the last named being quite a village.

Emily P. Weaver,

author of "A Canadian History for Boys and Girls", in her "Story of the Counties of Ontario", says "The oldest village in the county is Minden, situated at a point where the Bobcaygeon Road crosses the Gull River. The first settlers arrived there about 1859, and by 1864 the village was able to boast of a saw-mill about a mile up the river, and of a store or two, a blacksmith shop and a hotel." She continues to say that "On New Year's Eve, 1864, a dance began at Buck's hotel which, with slight intermissions, lasted four days and five nights."

In 1862, a Methodist minister, Rev. William Sherridan, was stationed at Minden, having the entire new settlements of Minden, Snowdon, Anson, Lutterworth and Stanhope townships under his charge. According to his own account, he and his wife received less than $200 in cash that year.

Material taken from the publication "A brief History of names in the County of Haliburton", written by R. H. Baker.

To Mothers

The black sky lighted up
With jagged flashes of lightning,
The wind howled
And the thunder rolled
Along the rocks that surrounded our house.
I huddled close to my mother
For I was cold,
Cold with fear.
Don't worry, my mother assured me
It will soon be over
And the night will be filled with stars -
And as she spoke I could hear the rumbling
Of the thunder dying away
And the stars began to shine.
Mothers are wise in so many ways
They make the dark clouds
Disappear
When a child is cold with fear
And I'll always be grateful for mine.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Dear readers. May is a lovely time of year. All kinds of flowers do appear. The leaves are forming on the trees and you can hear the humming of the bees. The fish are swimming in the brook, you can see God's hand at work no matter where you look.

Some of Mary Oliver's relatives came to take her for a drive on Saturday. Somehow or other they lost their way. They didn't know whether to turn left or right, but just kept going and came out alright.

Saturday afternoon our son Ray and wife Mary took me for a ride all around the countryside to see what we could see. Then back to dine at Dixie Lee.

Quite a lot of activity here on Mother's Day. Some have come to visit mothers hereabout, others came to take their mother out.

Ray Jenkins and wife came to visit his mother on this Mother's Day. We always know when Ray is here, fine piano music he does play.

Good service in the chapel Sunday night. Not too many there. Rev. Burgess read the lesson, his wife Mary led in prayer.

Then on this Mother's Day Rev. John spoke on mothers in a special way.

Monday morning Doris said this is police week. We will take all in the bus that want to go, to Haliburton to see the Ontario Provincial Police pipe band, but before we begin we better all behave ourselves or we might get run in. Linda came along too, to keep us in our places, and see that we wouldn't do anything that would disgrace us. Now the Ontario Provincial Police pipe band piped and played for us which was simply grand. It all seemed like a dream, on our way back home we were all treated to some ice cream.

Tuesday morning Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church brought us a very interesting message this May day. Thank you both for coming, Fred Ballard the music did play.

Doris showed us 3 movies this Tuesday, "The Huntsman", "Musical Ride" and "New Norway". Dorothy McElwain is leaving Hyland Crest after serving many years, of giving her best. It leaves us feeling blue. When we asked her how she was feeling, "why I am just tickety-boo". She is blessed with 5 sons, some of them are married and gone their ways. May all our blessings go with you and God's blessings when you go home to retire with your husband Ken.

Down at fun and fitness pitching horseshoes once more. Wilbert Sisson pitched a perfect score.

Wednesday night our musicians came - the Minden Male Quartette. Can they ever play and sing, boy! They can, you sure can bet. With Payne and Deacon on the guitar, Burch playing the harmonica and Smith on the violin. They entertained us royally and we look forward for when they come to us again.

Thursday afternoon the ladies from the West Guilford Gospel Chapel came down to us today, brought and served a tasty lunch, today. Then for a good ol' sing-a-long Doris the music did play. Thank you for coming, we would like to say.

We would like to thank the bingo callers who came Thursday night. Elsie Stamp and Cheryl McKnight. Who did the job just right. We had no sing song Friday afternoon, so Doris secured for us the life of Davey "Crockett on video tape. We watched it with interest, it was really great.

To all our readers we would just like to say, we hope you have a real nice time on this long holiday and didn't run out of gas on this busy highway.

New president leads Minden W.I.

Mrs. C. Lacey, newly-elected president, opened the May 15th meeting of Minden Women's Institute, reading a verse "Friends", at the Library Cultural Centre. Two special guests were introduced, Mrs. C. Dukelow, a Rural Organization Specialist, and Mrs. R. Warburton of Haliburton County Farmer's Association.

Fifteen members answered the roll call showing us something old and telling its history. We heard that we had sent $68 to CAT Scan from a meeting. We plan to have a carfull attend the anniversary party at Powles Corners in June.

The card Report had 12 cards sent and collections for Card Fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken. A gift was presented to past president Mrs. L. Cox in appreciation of her excellent work and this was done by Mrs. Kernohan.

The P.R.O. Report was given by Mrs. M. Sears and then Mrs. M. Bunker read a nicely typed report of Victoria East District Annual of May 14 and turned this in to the Secretary. We are planning our programmes for the coming year at the Library May 31 at 1 p.m. and this is for all executive members including convenors. Next meeting is our Luncheon at the United Church Hall, June 19 at 12:30 p.m. and we hope our District President Mrs. M. Robson will attend.

Mrs. Dukelow then took the chair to plan our Short Course of July 24 at the Recreation Centre upstairs and this is to be Meat Matters. Mrs. Warburton said Haliburton County Farmers Association were pleased to co-sponsor this course and would help with the details. Plans were completed and members offered their services for this.

We then adjourned and "auctioneer Verla" then sold the plants and the amount raised was $33.05.

We had a social half hour with tea and the delicious lunch served by the committee.

Jeanne Sears,
P.R.O.
